

WESTERLY

Due to the illness of Judge Oliver H. Williams, Clerk M. Walter Flynn, Jr. presided at the regular session of the Third District court Friday morning. All cases on the docket were continued a week and two new writs were entered. Proctor & Gamble vs. Barber & Reynolds, and Homer S. Hill vs. Joseph E. Davis. In the case of the state vs. James Blissett, charged with committing an assault upon his wife, Mrs. Blissett, with a razor, the court entered a plea of not guilty and the case was continued until March 25. Bail was fixed at $1,000. According to a statement made by Chief of Police Thomas F. Brown in court, Blissett had threatened to shoot the police when they came for him and he said that the only reason that he didn't shoot them when they arrested him was because they got him when his back was turned. Harry Stewart was also brought before the court, charged with committing an assault upon Henry Goulet. He was found guilty, and was fined $2 and costs, amounting to $5.50.

"The District School at Ardenboro" was the title of the play presented this week at the meeting of Westery, No. 18. This play was given in competition with "The District School" and the judges decided that the former play was the winner. The losers will hold a supper at which the winners will be entertained. Miss Ethel T. Jones, coached the winning actors.

Alexander Blissett, 72, a retired paving cutter, died Thursday evening at the New Park hotel where he has been boarding for the past year. Mr. Blissett was born in Aberdeen, Scotland, and was married in the early 80's and lived for a while in South Carolina before he came to Westery in 1885. For a number of years he worked in the Westery quarries, but eighteen years ago he went to Hart, Vt. to work. He retired a year ago and came back to Westery to reside. He is survived by a sister, Mrs. William Duguid of Westery, two sons, Alexander Blissett, Jr., of Westery and Forbes Blissett of Springfield, Mass.; three daughters, Mrs. Clyde Burdick of Westery, Mrs. Thomas MacVannara of Bridgeport, Conn., and Mrs. William J. Gilbert of Dowagiac, Mich., and five grandchildren.

The St. Patrick's whist held Thursday evening for the Church of the Immaculate Conception was well attended, there being over 40 tables in play. Music was enjoyed during the card playing, and at the conclusion of the whist refreshments were served. The prize winners for the evening were: First, Andrew Doherty and Mrs. Joseph Ryan; second, Miss Della Florence; consolation awards, Charles Aedina and Mrs. Edward Murphy.

More than 50 couples attended the annual St. Patrick's dance given at the telephone operators' Thursday evening at Champlin's hall. The hall was artistically decorated and music was furnished by Gavitt's orchestra. Carbons were distributed as favors to the dancers and punch was served. The affair proved a great success, and the girls maintained their reputation for starchy behavior. Another dance which attracted several hundred was conducted by the Loyal Order of Moose in the town hall. Music was furnished by Muller's orchestra.

The submarine N-7 from the Thames River, which struck the east end of the Watch Hill reef at 1 o'clock Thursday afternoon, while returning to New London through the inside course after maneuvering in company with another submarine in Buzzards Bay sound during the morning, was released from the rocks at 1:30 o'clock Friday morning with apparently little damage to the craft. A fruitless attempt to float the submarine was made Thursday afternoon by the submarine N-7 and the Block Island oil boat, Polaris, which pulled on a hawser which had been attached to the N-7. The stranded submarine at the same time used her own power. Assistance was rendered by the crew of Coast Guard station No. 58, a number of which visited the N-7 from the tower at the station when the sub struck the reef. Members of the crew of the Fishers Island station also came over and assisted in the attempt to free the submarine. Their services were no longer needed, this crew returned to Fishers Island at 5 o'clock Thursday afternoon.

The crews of the two submarines and the Watch Hill coast guardmen were engaged in their effort to clear the N-7 until late after dark when the searchlights were used to light the surrounding. The task was given up after 8 o'clock and five of the crew of the N-7 stayed aboard the craft. The crew of the Watch Hill coast guard station stood by until the undersea craft was floated at 2:30 o'clock Friday morning.

It was high water when the N-7 was pulled off the reef by the coast guard cutter. Accompanied by a tug, a mine sweeper and another small craft assisting. A soon as the submarine was hauled clear of the rocks and it was discovered that she was not leaking she was taken to the base. Capt. Broadmeadow, Engineers Emmett and Cunningham and Surfman Barber constituted the crew from station No. 58, who stayed by the N-7. The N-7 was closely followed by the N-7 when she struck the east end of the Watch Hill reef, but quick work in changing the course of the N-7 saved that craft from striking her sister ship. The N-7 was headed to the westward when she struck and she stuck fast with her bow head in toward Watch Hill point. There were four feet of water on the reef where the submarine struck, about three feet less than is required to float the craft, so that she was well up out of the water and rolled freely as the other craft pulled on the hawser.

Lewes
The dates for the Colonial club Reunion have been set for early in May. Repairs have been made in the People's Mission building on West Broad street. The interior has been repainted.

Mrs. Hicks Relieved By Four Eatonics
"I have taken four Eatonics tablets and they relieved me of sour stomach," she writes. "I recommend it to everybody," says Mrs. G. P. Hicks.

SALEM
Church services were held Sunday at the usual time. The evening service was in charge of Mrs. E. A. Mitchell. Mrs. Samuel Lamb entertained the sewing society of Myrtle Rehekah lodge Tuesday afternoon. Miss Hermine Brunka is confined to the house with a severe cold. Miss Mary Parker of South Windham is the guest of her sister, Mrs. John M. Noyes.

STONINGTON
James Harvey was notified that the body of his son, James W. Harvey, who was killed in the United States service in France, would arrive in New York on the 18th of March, and that it would be sent to Stonington on receipt of the proper information from him.

At a special four-minute meeting of the freshmen of the Borough held in Borough hall, Thursday evening, Warden C. B. Crandall called the meeting to order at 7 o'clock when eight men had assembled. Borough Clerk C. B. States read the call, and the following resolution was presented and voted:

"That a tax of 10 mills on the dollar be levied and assessed upon all the estate, real and personal, within the borough limits, said tax to be collectable and payable on September 28, 1921." It was further voted: "That the borough tax collector be paid one per cent. on the amount of taxes collected, for collecting said tax."

Stonington is to have a fast baseball team the coming summer. A meeting of the fans has already been held and William Wood has been selected to manage the team.

The fishermen are looking for an early and good season and just now are hard at work getting gears in condition. Men are getting round slakes ready for driving down the beach in order to be prepared for the first run of scup.

Charles E. Pendleton entertained the Round Table at his home Thursday afternoon. A meeting of Ocean View Commandery, No. 629, U. O. G. C., was held Friday evening. Edward E. Bradley left for New York Thursday, and today (Saturday) will sail for Bermuda with Eugene Atwood.

Charles E. Bradley, now stationed at Boston, with the Armour Co., was a caller in Stonington, Thursday.

MYSTIC
The whist held by Phoebe Packer Rathbun Tent, Daughters of Veterans, in G. A. R. Thursday evening, was a very pleasant affair. There were seven tables in play and the first ladies' prize was awarded Miss Marion Bradley and the first gentleman's prize went to Charles E. Pendleton. Following the game refreshments were served.

Sunday evening at the Methodist church there is to be special music in observance of Palm Sunday under the direction of Willard W. Kelwin. Mrs. Thomas Trevena and Mrs. Joseph Johnson will be the soloists and G. Victor Grinnell will sing.

Another harbinger of spring was the appearance on the street here Friday of the first street piano of the season. The piano was on wheels and drawn by a horse and gave forth about the usual variety of tunes.

Mrs. George Crutcher entertained the auction club Wednesday afternoon at her home on Washington street. Rev. J. G. Osborn has returned from Hartford where he has been conducting a series of evangelistic meetings.

Miss Mary Abbie Davis, Miss Charlotte Sisson and Mrs. George Denison went Thursday in Stonington, guests of Miss Phoebe Wilcox. Rev. F. T. Rhoad will preach at the Congregational church Sunday morning on "The Man Who Changed the World," this being the last in the series of Lenten sermons.

Professor George Woodward of Westery will conduct the service Palm Sunday at St. Mark's Episcopal church. Palms will be distributed and there will be special music. Mrs. Anne D. Gates has returned from a visit in New York. Miss Alice McDonald is a visitor in Providence.
